VOL. 2. QUINCY, PLUMAS COUNTY, CALIFORNIA, SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 13, 1864. NO. 16.

BINGEN ON THE RHINE.

A soldier of the legion lay dying in Algiers,
There was lack of woman's nursing, there was dearth of woman's tears,
But a comrade bent beside him, while his life blood ebbed away,
And bent with pitying glances to hear what he might say;
The dying soldier falt ered as he took that comrade's hand,
And he said, I never more shall see, my own, my native land,
Take a message and a token to some distant friends of mine,
For I was born at Bingen, at Bingenfon the Rhine

Tell my brothers and companions when they meet and crowd around,
To hear my mournful story on the pleasant vineyard ground,
That we fought the battle bravely, and when the day was done,
Full many a corpse lay ghastly pale beneath the setting sun;
And 'midst the dead and dying were some grown old in wars,
The death wound on their gallant breasts the last of many scars,
But some were young, and suddenly beheld life's morn decline,
For one had come from Bingen, far Bingen on the Rhine.

Tell my mother that some other son shall comfort her old age,
That I was still a truant bird that thought his home a cage;
For my father was a soldier, and even as a child,
My heart leaped forth to hear him tell of struggles fierce and wild;
And when he died and left us to divide his scanty hoard,
I let them take whate'er they would but kept my father's sword,
And with boyish love I hung it where the bright light used to shine,
On the cottage wall at Bingen, calm Bingen on the Rhine.

Tell my sister not to weep for me or sob with drooping head,
When the troops are marching home again with glad and gallant tread;
But to look upon them calmly with a bright and steadfast eye,
For her brother was a soldier too, and not afraid to die;
And if a comrade seek her love, I ask her in my name,
To listen to him kindly without regret or shame,
And to hang the old sword in its place, my father's sword and mine,
For the honor of old Bingen, old Bingen on the Rhine.

There's another, not a sister, in the happy days gone by,
You'd have known her by the merriment that sparkled in her eye,
Too innocent for coquetry too fond for idle scorning,
Alas, I fear the lightest heart, makes sometimes heaviest mourning;
Tell her the last night of my life, for ere this moon be risen,
My body will be out of pain, my soul be out of prison.
I dreamed I stood with her, and saw the yellow sunlight shine,
On the vine clad hill of Bingen, dear Bingen on the Rhine.

I saw the blue Rhine sweep along, I heard or seemed to hear.
Those German songs we used to sing, in chorus sweet and clear,
And down the flowing river and up the slanting hill,
That echoing chorus sounded through the evening calm and still;
And her glad blue eyes were on me, as we passed with friendly talk,
Down many a path beloved of yore and well remembered walk,
And her little hand lay lightly, confidingly in mine
But we'll meet no more on Bingen, dear Bingen on the Rhine.

His voice grew faint and hoarse, his grasp was childish weak,
His eyes put on a dying look, he sighed and ceased to speak;
His comrade bent to lift him but the spark of life had fled,
The soldier of the legion, in a foreign land lay dead,
And the bright moon rose up slowly, and calmly she looked down,
On the red sands of the battle field, with bloody corses strown,
Yea, calmly on that dreadful scene, her pale light seemed to shine,
As it shone on distant Bingen, far Bingen on the Rhine.

ROW IN A THEATRE AT HAVANA.

A correspondent of an Eastern paper, writing from Havana, December 15th, says:

On the 8th inst., we had the nearest approach to a riot I have ever seen on this island. It took place in the Tacon theatre. The performance consisted of a mixed programme of nonsense most atrociously rendered. It was presided over by one of the "City Fathers" (as are all public performances), Crespo by name and apothecary by trade, and who is not a favorite with the public. The house was a very full one, at high prices, $2, and the patrons, the greater portion of whom were natives of Spain, became naturally disgusted with the fraud practiced upon them, and from the very commencement expressed their disapprobation. The boxes were emptied, with the fall of the first drop-scene, of all the gentler sex, and then began a perfect Babel of cock crowing and catcalls, till finally it became utterly impossible to proceed. In vain the President attempted to address the assembly; his voice was drowned in the insulting expressions addressed to him and cries to speak louder, when, poor fellow, he was in great danger of bursting a blood-vessel from his very exertions to do so.

It was then stated that a fine of $100 had been imposed upon the impresario, but he having at least three thousand dollars in the house, this was taken as an insult to the public, who continued the uproar. The President then descended to the treasury department of the theatre, embargoed the proceeds, and returning to his box, caused a placard to be exhibited stating that the proceeds were to be given to the "Beneficencia," (a charitable institution.) Just then some foolish man appeared on the stage and by signs gave the public to understand that their money should be returned Upon this the crowd rushed over benches and orchestra upon the stage, and there for a time amused themselves by ringing the bell, and finally cutting the rope thereof. Two began turning it while a third jumped. The rest began dancing and jumping about like madmen. A dais and throne was leaning against the back wall. Several mounted it, when falling forward upon them, they were obliged to scramble from beneath it, entangled with the curtains, flags, etc., which had adorned it. The President had been foolish enough to order four policemen to attempt to impose silence. Their appearance was the signal for redoubled cries and noise, and on threatening to send for a guard of soldiers, the President was advised to administer cataplasms and blisters to them. The Chief of Police arrived with a reinforcement of policemen, when he was hooted and reviled. Attempting to arrest a young man, some one struck him two severe blows with a cane. A policemen tried to arrest the perpetrator, but it cost him dear. The crowd rushed upon him, took away his saber, and with many blows and kicks forced him through the living wall this crowd presented to the street. Then began a rain of chairs from the three tier of boxes upon the parquet. Shelves were renched off and thrown upon this pile, box doors and divisions were broken from above, pieces of seats were shied at the center chandelier, and destruction generally became the order of the night; drop-curtains were rent, twisted and let down, and the public tired themselves in destroying all breakables. At midnight it finished, having lasted from about 9½ o'clock. The damages are variously calculated from $3,000 to $5,000; a medium amount is probably correct. The next day a large number of young men of Havana were arrested and vilely thrown into jail, some who had not been even present.

One young gentleman, a member of one of our first families, was most unjustly and atrociously placed in "Bartolino," a part of the dirty, filthy jail which stains this Capitol—only used for condemned crimnials of the worst kind, about to be executed—composed of low small cells with scarcely breathing room, and the very cell lately occupied by the famous negro Lafitte; in the cell by his side were two criminals condemned to death. That this was done with the design of heaping indignity upon the young man is proved by his being declared innocent, and his having been discharged on the 11th; but for three days he and the others had been confined in the close unhealthy air of this very common jail. Despotic Russia may raise her hands in wonder that such things can be done in a civilized country.

It was attempted to give a political turn to this affair, and therefore the civil process was lost. Failing therein, the young men are innocent. It has been said a list has been formed of suspected persons, and the current joke is to declare to an acquaintance that his name adorns said list, when mock fear is expressed. It is said that that to laugh or applaud in the Gran Teatro de Tacon is hereafter to be constructed into rebellion.

CHANGE OF NAME.—An amusing debate occurred in the Senate upon a bill to change the name of James Fitzpatrick to James F. Smith. Mr. Smith of Butte, moved that the bill be referred to a committee of One, consisting of himself, to ascertain Fitzpatrick's reasons for wishing to enter the select and honorable family of Smiths. Mr. Benton seconded the motion, with an amendment that Smith be authorized to send for persons and papers—to summon all the Smiths for consultation on the subject. Mr. Gaskill said he was opposed to the motion because this was the first time his colleague had ever made a legitimate attempt to increase the Smith family. [Great Laughter.] After sundry more jokes, and it appearing that Fitzpatrick desired to adopt the name of his stepfather the bill was passed.—Appeal.

DEATH ON THE BATTLE-FIELD.

Thus writes an officer fighting in Spain under the Duke of Wellington:

Habit gradually hardens us to such scenes, and death far from creating serious reflections, is often laughed to scorn. On the evident approach of a general action, we notify its probability to such other by unreflecting remarks, such as "there will be more hats than heads before to-morrow night;" and none of us even during the action, conduct ourselves with the proper proportion of sober sadness of which I have no doubt you excellent people in England suppose natural, and perhaps think necessary, in an affair of life and death. I have heard some very free jokes escape under fire; and as hearty burst of laughter at seeing a beau of an officer covered with dirt or dust, from the splash or blow of a cannon ball striking near him as would take place at any absurd accident in common life. On our advance to Others, when opposite Sauveterre, waiting for orders, and hardly out of cannon shot of the enemy, on the other side the Gave the officers of the third division amused themselves by leap-frog and other romping boyish games.

I recollect at Fuentes de Honor being goose-quilled on the superficial skin, if not thrilled to the inmost soul, by an officer of the Adjutant-General's department, well known for his fun, depicted to me, in the following words the state some of us might possibly be in within the course of a few hours. The truthfulness of the description made it very disagreeable, particularly as, at that moment, balls from the skirmishers (in evidence of what was coming) were already flying over our heads. "You will be astonished," he said, "to find yourself overturned by a sharp blow on the breast, and on evincing an inclination to rise, being convinced, by the total diminution of your strength, that some very unpleasant accident has happened to you. Thus satisfied to your incapacity of movement, you lie quietly on the ground, with certain very unpleasant forbodings in your mind, till one of your friends brings you a surgeon, who, opening your coat, finds you are shot through the lungs, and to satisfy himself (not you) says, 'Spit, sir, spit.' In the attempt your mouth fills with blood—what your medical friend (no longer alas, your adviser) wishes to ascertain—who, putting a bit of lint on the wound, shrugs up his shoulders, and leaves you to suffocate while he goes to congratulate your juniors on their promotion."

AN ECCENTRIC BACHELOR.—A New York correspondent of the Boston Post says: Mr. Jas. H. Roosevelt, belonging to one of our most respectable Knickerboker families, suddenly left this breathing world on the 1st inst. He had long resided in his bachelor's hall in great Jones street, in this city, and left property estimated to be worth nearly a million dollars. Not being able to take this snug little sum with him, he made a disposition of it which the public generally considers more sensible than if he had bequeathed it to increase the wealth of his rich relations. The property, much to the disgust of disappointed connections, will go to establish in this city a hospital for the reception and relief of sick and diseased persons, and to permanently endow this noble project. The most curious part of the affair is that the only legatee under the will (and the sole executrix) is a lady to whom the late lamented had been several times betrothed; once, even, so nearly married that the cards were out, the guests assembled and the expectant bride on hand en regle, but the very necessary bridegroom did not come to time. The reason why never transpired, but the couple made it up again. Still the happy day was postponed—as it turned out ad internitatem—but the inconsolate finance was remembered to the tune of five thousand a year for life and the profitable birth of executrix of a million dollar estate. Such is life!

A SHAM DUEL.—A sham duel occurred at Virginia City, the other day. The parties went out and fought with pistols charged with tin foil. A large crowd was in attendance to witness the bloody encounter—supposing it to be "all on the squere." After a few rounds, one of the parties fell to the ground as if wounded. The police appeared upon the scene and arrested the supposed murderer. Then the point of the joke stuck out.

THE CROW OF CEYLON.—In the Island of Ceylon there is to be found a very cunning and sensible crow, somewhat smaller than our own native one, having a glossy back, and altogether rather an engaging, pretty bird. Now, in the yard of the Governor of Ceylon, a dog was one day amusing himself by gnawing a bone, the scraps of meat upon which attracted the attention of one of these crows. It alighted on the ground hopping around the dog and bone, and evidently waited for an opportunity of seizing the latter. The dog, however was on his guard, and by certain growls and probably angry looks, which the bird understood no doubt, protected his property. The crow was too hungry and too cunning to be baffled. He flew away, but soon returned with a companion. They hopped up to the dog, when the fresh arrival watched his opportunity and gave a sudden pull at the dog's tail. Not being used to such an insult he suddenly turned around, in order to see who had taken this liberty with him. The bone for a moment was left unprotected and was immediately seized by the first cunning crow, who flew away with it, joined by his companion, and they doubtless had a merry feast upon it.

A CLERICAL BLUNDER AT A FUNERAL.—A singular case occurred at a funeral recently, in one of the towns of Middlesex county, Mass. A young, unmarried lady dying suddenly, a clergyman was invited from abroad to officiate at her funeral. Having no acquaintance with the deceased and her relatives, usual information on these points was given him; but by the broadest misconception of existing facts, the reverend gentleman, in his "long prayer," turned the maiden into wife, mother and grandmother, and supplicated earnestly for the bereaved husband, children and grandchildren! As no one dared to stop him while praying, for the purpose of setting him right, the effect of his language on the father, mother, brothers and sisters, and of her near relatives, was distressing, and on the large audience, ludicrous. After the amen was pronounced, the conductor of the funeral told the minister of his "awful blunder," which intelligence naturally put him into no enviable frame of mind, while it did nothing towards mending matters. The mother of the girl, we are told, desired that he go over the sermon again, and pray "according to circumstances." This, however, was not done, and without further remarks the meeting was dismissed. It was universally conceded that either the minister should have been better "posted" or more mindful of his instruction.

A SERVANT GIRL'S PERROGATIVES.—"Now, Miss Bradford, I like to have a good old fashion talk with the lady I lives with before I begins. I'm awful tempered, but I'm dreadful forgiven'. Have you Hecker's flower, Bebe's range, hot and cold water, stationary tubs, oil cloth on the floor, dumb waiter?" Then follows her self-planned programme for the week: "Monday I washes, I'se to be let alone that day. Tuesday I irons. Nobody's to come near me that day.—Wednesday I bakes. I'se to be let alone that day. Thursday I picks up the house. Nobody's to come near me that day. Friday I goes to the city. Nobody's to come near me that day. Saturday I bakes, and Saturday afternoon my beau comes to see me. Nobody's to come near me that day.—Sunday I has to myself."

NO DRAFT IN CALIFORNIA.—The Washington correspondent of the Union says:

As has been previously intimated in this correspondence, there will be no draft ordered in California, the Secretary of War having explicitly stated that fact to Senator Conness. So the trembling "liable to draft" can be reassured. A careful enrollment will be proceeded with and completed, as it is necessary that the available force of the State shall be known when in case an extraordinary exigency of future squally times should demand that it be called out. But unless in case of foreign invasion, or a sudden raid upon California from the extreme western fag-end of rebeldom, no draft will be made.

REESE RIVER.—The Austin Reveille thinks that more bullion was shipped from the Reese River mines during the month of January than has been shipped since those mines were discovered.

How much did all that amount to?

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 13, 1864.

FAIR NOTICE.—In regard to the controversy which will, in all probability, result from the publishing of the letter of Mr. Stille in this paper, we have this to say: That any person or persons, who may wish to reply to the same, but who choose to make their communications of a personal character, are notified that such communications will be inserted as advertisements only.

COPPER.

The recent discoveries of copper in this county deserve something more than a passing notice, for the developments being daily made, warrant us in concluding that the interest of copper mining will eventually be among the principle resources of the county. Three or four new lodes of copper ore have been discovered within the two weeks last past, which with those already discovered will make eighteen separate and distinct copper lodes in the county, and we are speaking short of the truth when we place the value of the ore in the poorest veins at 15 per cent.

The first discovery was made while prospecting the Green Ledge, at Genesee Valley, some three years since.—Then in quick succession were found the Cooper near Genesee, the Mountain Meadow vein near Mountain Meadows, the Gifford, the Hincle, and the Big Ingun, at or near Genesee Valley, the Superior at Light's Canon, and others whose names are unknown to us.

The Superior ore is what is called peacock, being composed of rich brown and yellow sulphurets of copper largely mixed with malachite. The ore in the Green and Cooper lodes are very similar, being the red oxyd. Some portions of the vein assay as high as 66 per cent. The ore of the Mountain Meadows Company is of a black or dark brown tint, and mixed with considerable virgin copper.

Of the Cooper lode quite a large amount, (some five or six tons) was sent to Swansea, England, for reduction, and the ore payed 57 per cent in copper, and silver at the rate of 140 dollars to the ton. This ledge on the outcrop is ten or twelve feet wide, and the ore taken was of course the best of the lot blasted out; but the mass of the rock will pay at least 35 per cent. When we consider that 10 per cent. ore will pay well for working, we do not think we over estimate the value of these discoveries, and consider that the working of copper ore will, at no very distant day, become one of the principal sources of wealth in Plumas county.

As an evidence of our belief, we have the assurance of capitalists, who are investing, and securing the possession of the best lodes, and all in a quiet way. Of course, capital is an absolute need in working copper; bnt at present rates of labor, no extensive preparations will be made for work on those lodes which have passed into the hands of speculative capitalists.

We know of indications of copper ore in several places in the county, and can point out the places to those who desire to prospect; but we caution our readers not to throw away time and labor on mere spurs, where the veins are within easy reach.

We may be accounted somewhat visionary; but we predict, that in ten years from this date, we shall have works for reducing copper ore in Plumas county, and that the value of the copper will then equal the value of our export of gold.

DEMISE.—A "Beacon," set up on the Democratic hill is darkened. Its light has ceased to shine. The principles of Beacon-ian Democracy have faded; the oil in the lamp has become exhausted, the Copperheads go about the streets in mourning, and Fisher is clothed in sackcloth and ashes. We have no tears to shed over such deaths. The body which they sought to warm is cold, and every effort to infuse life into it is like the chemist's electrical experiments over a dead frog.

There is now but one war-Democratic paper in this State, and its tone is so loyal to the Union, that we cannot find fault with it, but the Beacon we looked upon as being a trap to swindle honest citizens into voting for copperheads for fear they might join hands politically with former enemies, for that reason we are glad that the Beacon at Red Bluff has dowsed its glim, and we hope Fisher may now turn to some honorable mode of making a living, and no longer insist that the only patriots in the county are clothed in the shoddy of Democracy.

STRATMAN.—The San Francisco Newsman, sends us a bundle of Pictorials, for which we return thanks.

ROADS.—The Board of Supervisors at their last meeting appropriated seven hundred dollars to be applied for road purposes. Five hundred of the sum on the road from Humbug to Butte county line, (the Oroville road) and two hundred from Onion Valley to Sierra county line to connect that place with the Beckwourth Pass turnpike.

This is a small sum, but better than nothing, and if the money is only judiciously expended, it will be some help.

The Board have levied ten cents on the one hundred dollars as a road tax for 1864, which will produce a revenue of about twelve hundred dollars. This tax is enough perhaps to keep good roads in repair, but it is insufficient to build roads in this county, and while our tax is high already, yet we think the people would not have grumbled at a little higher rate of taxation for road purposes.

While other portions of the county are moving to improve the means of communication with the outer world, our town appears to be satisfied if the bridges in this valley are crossable, and and the people have a disease which may be christened Vanwinkle-ism. We ought to have a good wagon road by Onion Valley to Gibsonville. We ought to have a road via the old Shaffer trail to Indian Valley, yet we have neither, and are not likely to have any. It is discouraging to think that while Oroville has the steam car, Quincy can hardly see the world, unless she starts on the journey on a mule.

COMMENTS.—We publish this week under the head of advertisements a communication from Mr. D. C. Stille U S. A. Assessor for this county. It is placed as an advertisement for the reason that our columns ARE NOT open for the use of any one, no matter who he may be, who has occasion to, or wishes to enter into a personal controversy by letter with others. In reference to the UNION and the article which appeared in it some time since (during the absence of Mr. Buckbee) we will reserve our reply until next week. And as the affair has at last come before the pubic, we wish to to have it sifted to the bottom.

SOLDIERS VOTE.—In the case of the People vs. Tuolumne County, the Supreme Court, we notice, has decided the vote of the soldiers to be unconstitutional. We have not as yet seen the opinion of the Court, but notwithstanding that decision, we offer our friendship and esteem to the defeated parties, and hope that enough residents of that county will be found at home, to play out the secesh at the next election. Their's a good time coming, wait a little longer, boys.

"IMP."—Some friend at Auburn Placer Co., has forwarded to us "Bingen on the Rhine," with no signature but "Imp." On behalf of all those whose heart are stirred to their depths by the sweeping of the unexplainable chords of the true poetic harp, we thank "Imp." We publish the poem this week, and ask our readers if they do not agree with us in considering a genuine poem.

MODEST REQUEST.—An appropriation of $15,0 00 is asked of the Legislature, for the purpose of building the Yuba Gap Wagon Road in Sierra County. Set Plumas down for about $20,000 to be expended on Roads if it is to be adopted as a general rule by the Legislature, to give all that is asked of them.

ELBON.—In another column will be found a Resolution from Elbon. We think the action of the Board in that particular is fairly open to a small degree of ridicule, and Elbon has given them just what the record requires, a sly dig.

THE news from the Humboldt region is more favorable than at any previous time, and just the opposite with Reese River.

THE Common Council of Marysville and the Sisters of Notre Dame, are having some trouble in regard to the taxes on their property.

SACRAMENTO CORRESPONDENCE.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 7th, 1864.

DEAR UNION:—In my new quarters every thing goes on smoothly. My contraband blacks my boots regularly, I get my regular shemuc at Swimley's, and were it not for the rear view from my window, which overlooks the back yard of an extensive lager-beer saloon, I should be able to say "I'm 'appy."

"The Menken" has been succeded by Gass,—an undoubted lady,—sister to a lawyer who done considerable business in this town, and did his clients considerably, but Miss Gass is a smooth elocutionist, well bred, somewhat uppish, and appears to take to the stage like an old stager. In private life she commands the respect and sympathy of the entire community, and Brad wishes her all the success that she merits.

The Solons are tinkering with the legitimate drama to prevent the occurrence of "noisy and barbarous amusements on the Sabbath." The question is whether the legitimate drama is counted in as noisy and barbarous. Brad's opinion is that certain branches of the legitimate are noisy, and not to put too fine a point on it barbarous, as instance the ravings of the celebrated McKean Buchanan, who splits the ears of the groundlings, not speaking his "piece" as it is given him, but by noises which are a cross between the filing of a saw and the bellowing of a Bull of Bashaw. He certainly barbarizes the text of the great dramatist, in the most orthodox fashion.

The Melodeons flourish, the pretty waiter girls are only pretty by courtesy, their beauty and their virtue have both fled together, and it is only an instance of human depravity which can submit to the swindle of their being called pretty; they are pretty—old, I thank you.

Brad has seen one of the old relics of early Sacramento life, torn down and spirited off. The old Sycamore that stood on the bank of the Sacramento has become fire wood, and—historical, beneath its spreading branches on the banks of the then crystal waters, Brad and his associates had their camp in '49. During the first flood in that year, his ark of safety was tied to it by a hempen cord, and although a city has grown from it roots, yet the old tree is among the dearest of his early Sacramento recollections, and he felt like singing "Woodman spare that tree," when the sacreligious iron entered the sacred wood.

Rush of Tehama has introduced a bill which may prove of interest to divers and sundry gents who sport gold watches,—and spout bad English in our Courts of—Justice. The purport of the bill is to shut down the gates on the increasing throng of law limbs, who are admitted to practice in the inferior Courts of the State, and to require of lawyers who desire to have the power to say "Yer Oner" to a County or District Judge, and to practice in those Courts, apply for and be admitted to practice in the Supreme Court. Brad enters his protest, and desires to be placed on the record as an opponent of that little piece of clerkly strategy. There are now practicing in your County, (Plumas) five lawyers. To attend the Supreme Court would cost them each $100, and the fees of certificates would add $20 to that, and all for what? That the Supreme Court might be convinced that a man knew enough to practice in the inferior Courts. Let Brad gently whisper in your ear, that he believes the whole scope of that bill is to benefit a particular friend of his, and he won't call any names, but make a rough calculation and leave you to draw the reference. There are in the State over 1800 names of lawyers; if this bill passes at least 1,000 will apply to the Supreme Court for admission. The law gives to Clerk of Supreme Court ten dollars for each certificate and seal to practice; ten times one thousand dollars would make a very good salary; don't you think it would Mr. Editor? Brad thinks that Billy Harriman would not object to the passage of the bill, but let a proviso be inserted that the Clerk of the Supreme Court shall charge nothing for the issuance of certificates under seal to lawyers who have been heretofore admitted in District Court, and then you would see what little interest would be felt for it passage.

The Greenback fight still goes on At San Francisco, quite a row was inaugurated by the attempt of D. W. Cheesman to speak in favor of the National Currency. At Placerville, a large meeting was held to express their opposition to repeal. In this city, a petition has been circulated for the same purpose. Brad did not sign it, beacuse he is in favor of making the legal tender of the Nation, the legal tender for the State. I think though, that hard money will win the fight, and that the change will be effected in the minds of two o three Senators, of Union proclivities. I hope not; but the "right of instruction" has been held to so strongly by certain Senators in the McDougal censure, that they must open their ears to the instructions of their constituents, when those instructions come thundering up, the way they do now, in opposition to the repeal of the Sanderson Specific Contract Act, of last year.

[Personal.—Brad sends his compliments to the type-setters, and begs them to be a little more particular about copy; not to make Christ, where he writes grist; nor facetious out of factious, with other kind and feeling advice, freely given, &c.] The Head Devil, in this office, returns Brad's compliments uninjured, and begs of him, hereafter to write plain, so that the T. S. can read his manuscript.—Ed.

This letter has been very discursive, but let 'er rip.

Yours discursively. BRAD.

CORRESPONDENCE.

FEBRUARY 10TH, 1864.

MR. EDITOR:—I have a resolution to offer.

Resolved, By the board of Supervisors of Plumas county, that all the money now in the Road Fund, or that may hereafter come into said Fund, be, and the same is hereby equally divided between Andrew Miller and Jackson Urie:

Provided, 1st, That all that portion falling to said Urie, shall be expended on that mile and a half of road, lying between Onion valley and the Sierra county line.

Provided, 2d, That the portion, falling to the said Miller, shall be expended on the road leading through Humbug valley, with the express understanding, that if, after said road in Humbug is put in buggy running order, there should remain any surplus funds, that the same shall be applied to some road in that section, over which no tax payer of the county ever travels.

Mr. Editor, the precedent for the adoption of the above, is so well established, that I move the previous question, upon which I demand the "ayes and noes."

ELBON, Clerk.

P. S. There being no money left in the above named fund, I hereby generously donate my fees to the repair of that miserable piece of road lying between this place and Indian valley.

To the Public.

In the month of December, 1863, in the issue of the QUINCY UNION of the 26th, my name was brought before the public in rather a disreputable manner. At the time I did not consider that it was worth my notice, but since then I find that I have need to look after it. The article referred to has reference to the unpleasant words which passed between J. S. Root and myself, in regard to my official business as U. S. A. Assessor. Root did say that I had "no right," nor any "authority to collect the money that I had collected," and at the same time, I told him that he was a "d—d liar, and that I could prove it," and now, what is more, I meant just what I said. Now let us see if I did mean it. When I received the appointment as U. S. A. Assessor, (which was in the middle of June, 1863.) I was a freshman in the business, never even having seen a copy of the National Tax Law, and at the same time, had forty six square miles to travel over and assess.—E. Dunham, (at that time Deputy Collector) was here, and as the per cent for collecting was so small that he could not make it pay him to travel over this county, he authorized me to collect Monthly Returns, Back Licenses and Floating Licenses, such as Pedlars, &c. I did so, and as Mr. Dunham made these trips here, I returned the money to him, and took his receipts which I now hold, in lieu of the receipts I gave. Here, I will mention the only fault that I can see that I should be censured with. It is neglect of making entries of the money received for Pedlar's and Back Licenses, when I would collect it, and soon found that I had collected mony which I could not make the returns for. As soon as I found this out, I told Mr. Dunham of it, and at the same time told him that it would place me in a bad position. Mr. Dunham said that it should not; that, inasmuch as I had given my receipts, they would be found by the Collector and then I could return them, and so the matter rested, but from that time I took good care that I kept my record of everything. Mr. Dunham never made another trip to this county and the consequence was that there was another Deputy Collector appointed. John S. Root was the man. When I found that Root was appointed and before he got his commission, I went to him and told him how the matter stood, and at the same time stated to him that I had money in my hands which belonged to the Government, and should be paid over to the Deputy Collector, and that as he had got the appointment, he was the man, and also told him that as soon as he got his commission, to come to me and I would settle the matter, and then if he did not like the way that Dunham and I were doing, he could take his course and I would take mine. (At this time parties who were subject to monthly returns sent them to me, and at the same time sent the money with them.) At the same time I told him that there were receipts of mine out which had not been returned, and wherever he found them to bring them to me and I would make it all right, as it had been negligence on my part, but that Dunham understood it. Now let us see what John S. Root has done. In the first place, instead of coming to me and receiving the money which I had on hand, he went to parties here in this place, and demanded money which he knew they had paid to me,—J. Cochran for one. Mr. Cochran told him that he had paid the money to me, and that he would see Stille. Just then I came up the street, and Mr. C. met me and asked me about it. I told him it was all right, and at the same time met Root. I asked Root why he was troubling men for money which they had already paid, and that he knew where to get the same. Then it was that he made the remark to me that I had no authority to collect money, and I told him that he was a d—d liar, and that he knew it. Next, Root went to Schlatter for the Brewer's returns, in this place, and wanted him to pay him for returns which I had already offered him the money for. Schlatter came to me, and said that Root told him that if he did not pay the money to him he would sue him, and also said that I had no more right to collect the money than a Digger Indian, and also told S. that he had better prosecute me for it. These things became so unpleasant that I concluded to go to Sacramento. I did so, saw J. M. Avery, stated the facts to him, and Mr. Avery told me to offer Root the money again, and if he would not accept it to return it to the parties from whom I had received it. I came back, and the first man that I met was J. J. L. Peel, who came to me and said that he wanted the money back to pay the carriage tax which I had collected, and said that Root had made him pay it over to him. I told Peel that I would satisfy him that I had no money to pay back. I then showed Mr. Peel E. Dunham's receipt. P. then went and saw Dunham. Mr. D. told him that I had done nothing but what he had authorized me to do. Peel then went to the Collector's Office, in Sacramento. There he saw one Mitchell who said he thought that my acts were not correct, and that I could not be appointed by the Deputy Collector to collect money; also said that there had been much talk about the matter, and that John M. Avery would not act in the matter, and that he, Mitchell, had concluded to have no more to do with it, but referred Mr. Peel to Thomas Brown, Special Agent from the Treasury Department at San Francisco. (I will mention here, that when Mitchell stated to Mr. Peel that Mr. Avery would not act in this matter, he stated what was not so, for as I shall show, Mr. Avery did act, but not as certain parties would like to have had him act. Mr. Avery would not take snap judgment, but gave me the privilege of setting myself right.) Mr. Peel saw Brown and stated the case just as it was. Mr. Brown said that I was correct, that Mr. Dunham had a right to authorize me to collect for him, and if there was anything wrong Mr. D. was responsible, not me. By the way, Mr. Peel tells me that he will state that what I say is so. Now I go farther to show how this matter has been conducted. Root and his friends have concealed from me everything that they could, where they thought they could make any capital. Here is one case, and I do not know how many more there may be like it. I sent a notice to E. D. Hosselkus & Co., to make their returns to me of the manufacture of tin-ware. I gave the letter to Mr Hosselkus, directed to C. Walker. I got no returns. I met Mr. Hosselkus in this place, and asked him if he delivered the same. He answered me in an abrupt manner, that he believed he did, and gave me no other satisfaction. My first thought was to go to my office and make the returns under Sec. 11, but as I thought of it, I concluded to go to Honey Lake, and see what J. S. Root had been doing there. I did so. I knew that Hosselkus & Harvey had always been willing to pay any tax that was required of them that was just. When I got there I found that Root had been there, and not only said that I had not returned $48 00 which I had collected for tin-ware, but made I. J. Harvey T. C. Purdom and N Breed pay over their carriage tax to him, which they had paid to me, and for which I held E. Dunham's receipt, at the same time stating that I had never returned them which he knew was a bare-faced falsehood, for he had a list of them in his possession at the time. Now in the case of I. J. Harvey and T. C. Purdom, where I had assessed each for $1 33 and collected the money. Root makes them pay, Purdom $2 00, Harvey $1 00, so it seems to me that he took the assessing and collecting both into his own hands. At the same time, I don't say but he had the right to do so, but if he had I want to know it. I must say that it is not the way that Sec. 26 reads to me. When Root told these men that I had not made returns of these assessments and money, he knew that he told a contemptible, slimy lie. Root and his friends found that I was tracking them too close, so to save Root, these friends have prepared statements and sent to John M. Avery. I know not what they are; but this I do know, even before they were sent from this place, there were petitions or applications got up and presented to parties to sign, and stated that I would be removed. Now while they were so sure that they had my throat well cut, I suppose that common decency would have made them wait till I had stopped kicking before they commenced to take my load off. Now, what they may have communicated to Mr. Avery which should have given them so much confidence in my removal, is more than I know; but this I do know, that when they start after John M. Avery they are after the wrong man to make a fool of. Mr. Avery has acted the man with me through this whole matter, and if he should remove me at once, I would say just what I say now; and I say more. The way the story was represented in the first place, Mr. Avery would have been justifiable in removing me then, but he was not willing to be led by any underhanded means, and he has my thanks for it. I can spot my men, and the underhanded paps who are engaged in this contemptible meanness know it, and there is not one of them who has got manhood enough to show his hand. I do not often trouble the public with explanations, nor am I fond of wide-mouth clamor, but when I do speak, I must be understood. Let this be my excuse for the length of this article.

In conclusion I will say, that the only complaints that have been made of me in this county, has been made by John S. Root reporting a pack of contemptible lies, and now that he finds he is getting in trouble through it, his friends try to save him by slaughtering me. All that I have ever asked was a fair show, and I ask that till yet. What I have stated in this article are facts, and what is more, I have not stated one half yet, and I want it distinctly understood that I hold myself responsible for every word that I publish here, just as much as I do for every dollar that I have collected for the Government, and any man who says, or has ever said that I have ever done any thing wrong, or that I could not explain if I had a chance, I say is a liar!

Now all I have to say is this: I not only desire a thorough investigation of this matter, but is is my right, and I demand it. Then we shall see who is to blame. If I am to be slaughtered, I want to be decently dressed, to say the least.

Now since I have been compelled to make this statement by Root and his friends' underhanded meanness, I have handled them just as gently and easy as I could and do myself justice.

D. C. STILLE, U. S. A. Assessor.

Marriages.

On the 7th Inst., at the residence of E. H. Pierce Esq., in Quincy by Hon. A. P. Moore, Mr. L. C. Charles, (under Sheriff) to Miss Annie G. Stromberg.

One by one our bachelor friends double, one by one they join the innumerable throngs of "Benedicts," and at last our friend Lev. has fulfilled the Scriptural injuction of "take unto thyself a wife,' which simply proves he is a Christian; may his Levy hold until death dissolve the partnership. For himself and his fair bride the combined "Union" element wish abundant joy, pleasant days, and peaceful nights May peace ever be the predominant spirit in their home, and prosperity attend all their steps.

Our Sanctum was not forgotten, but editor printers and printers devils, drank bumpers of champagne, to the health of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Charles—and the Charleys.

Deaths.

At Smoke Creek Station, January 14th 1864 John W. Blackwood, aged about 32 years.

Deceased was formerly from Maine, and resided for some length of time at Rich Bar, in this county.

At Quincy, February 4th 1864, ABBY, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Root, aged 6 months and 5 days.

"Wait! my little one, wait!
When you get to the beautiful land;
Tarry a little, my darling,
Ere you join the heavenly band.
Stand close to the shining gates of pearl,
But on the narrow way,
For I want the first glance of my heaven-born sight
On my little one to stray.

Wait! my little one, wait!
When you reach the courts above;
Look down with the light of your beautiful eyes
On those that you used to love.
Whisper sweet dreams in our earthly ears
When we lie down to sleep:
Paint bright pictures before our eyes
When we awaken to weep.

Wait! my little one, wait!
When you reach the heavenly strand,
For I may be toiling up,
To the heights of the better land;
For the years that fall like molten lead
On the hearts this side the sea,
Will pass like the light of a beautiful dream,
My little babe, o'er thee.

The Medical and Surgical Institute of

Dr. L. J. CZAPKAY, is already secured in a position which places it, as well as the proprietor, far above the assaults of envy and professional malice. In the schools of France, the highest prizes are often awarded to practitioners in this department of Medical Science, and they occupy with others, an equally lofty position in the profession. Ricord is an illustrious example, a shining light among the philosophical stars of his age in Europe, and Dr. Czapkay has fully equalled him in this country; as a proof of which, the Philadelphia College of Medicine complimented him with a Diploma, and the honorary adeundem degree. Selecting this as his field of operations, although qualified as a graduate of the University of Pesth, and late Chief Surgeon of the Hungarian Revolutionary army, for more extended labors, Dr. L. J. Czapkay has bent his earnest attention to the cure of chronic and private diseases, in which he has become so great an expert that he is now regarded as the LEADER in this branch of his profession throughout the United States, and his portrait and biography are published as a matter of interest to their patrons in the most exclusive journals. The Doctor's offices are at his Medical and Surgical Institute on Sacramento street, corner of Leidesdorff, nearly opposite the buildings of the Pacific Mail Steamship Co.

LOCAL ITEMS.

ST. VALENTINE.—To-morrow the 14th inst., is St. Valentine's day.

REMOVAL.—See notice in another column of the removal of the store of N. C. Cunningham.

ANNIVERSARY.—The 14th inst., to-morrow is the anniversary of the Sage Brush Battle at Susanville Honey Lake. Many of us will remember that day.

WHIRLWIND.—One of these "displacers" passed through town on Thursday, tearing down fences, small sheds, &c.

SHOOTING MATCH.—A trial of the best shots for turkeys &c., is to come off at Spanish Ranch, today, 13th. Be on hand you Quincy "sharp shooters," and nabb the prizes.

WATER, SNOW, RAIN.—Anything in that line would be most acceptable to all of our miners, farmers and mill owners. "Something must be did," and the sooner the better.

SO THEY GO.—A few weeks since, we noticed the departure of several of our citizens for Arizona, and now we hear that several of our citizens intend leaving for the Boise region in a short time.

TO SHIP.—Orders have been received by certain parties to ship one thousand pounds of the quartz taken from the North American ledge, to San Francisco, for the purpose of having it thoroughly tested.

SMELTING WORKS.—Mr. J. Chapman is erecting works at Indian Valley for the purpose of smelting copper ore. If he succeeds in his undertaking, we shall soon have a large smelting furnace in operation in this county.

AS USUAL.—We understand that considerable jealousy is existing in one of our neighboring towns, inside of a religious circle. Wrong, friends; set a better example, or you can never expect outsiders to seek admittance, and the truth.

ERROR.—In our notice of the Howard ledge ast week, an error was committed, in stating that the company had one hundred and fifty feet to run. It should have read thirty feet, as the company hopes to reach the ledge in that distance.

MISINFORMED.—We have received a communication from J. T. Taylor Esq., of Indian valley, stating that the person who informed us that it was his intention to give a ball at his place on the 22d inst., was mistaken, and no ball will be given by him at that time.

PROBATE COURT.—The Probate Court met on the 9th inst., and adjourned until the 16th inst., at which time, the hearing of the petitions of R. Irwin and C. Chapelaine, praying for letters of administration upon the estate of A. Grimaux deceased, will come before the Court.

RICH QUARTZ.—A piece of gold bearing quartz taken from the ledge of Hesler & Co., at Argentine, was on exhibition in town a few days since. It was decidedly rich. Gold was scattered promiscuously throughout the whole rock, and from its appearance, we should judge that it would pay at least $1,000 to the ton.

GOOD MOVE.—A subscription has been circulated in town, for the purpose of building a neat and substantial fence around the grave yard, something over $300 has already been subscribed. We consider the move a good one, and those who were instrumental in getting up and circulating the petition, deserve the thanks of our whole community, as the present condition of the last resting place of our friends, is a blot upon the character of the citizens of this valley.

HE THINKS SO!—A correspondent of the Sierra Standard writing from Quincy says:

"Judge Hogan has returned from the Bay, and will contest Moore's claim to the office upon the ground that there is no vacancy—Jones not having qualified. Art. 11 Sec 19. of the amendments to the Constitution appears to meet the case and I think Hogan will continue to hold over for the next two years."

"We shall see what we shall see."

"LET IT FLY."—Stidger of the San Juan Press in concluding an article in regard to himself and R. S. Messick, says:

"For the present I am done with this scurrillous article, but not with the slanderer, nor the paper that gave it circulation, nor the parties here who chuckled over it. They shall all hear from me in good time. The way I will make the fur fly from their worthless carcasses will be "a sin to Moses"

SLIGHTLY OREGONIAN.—We find the following in the Gold Hill (N. T.) News. It is after the style of the Oregon papers, but not quite equal in elegance of expression to the emanations of those lights of the newspaper world. If the News perseveres, it may be able, by-and-by to approach within hailing distance of the great originals:—Ex.

General Allen, a veteran editor, a man of sense, and a gentleman.—Gold Hill News.

Very sorry we can't return the compliment.—Old Piute

Why, you old muggins! When we spoke of General Allen, we had reference to the late editor of the Washoe Times. Not you—you shade of old Caudle—you ghost of old Polonius—you spoilt edition of a d—d fool.—Gold Hill News.

CELEBRATION.—The following is published in the Oroville Union as the programme for the celebration of the opening of the Railroad to that place. We would like to be "thar."

RAILROAD CELEBRATION!

The Citizens of Oroville, have resolved to celebrate the opening of Cal. Northern Railroad, on its completion to Oroville, by a

GRAND CIVIL and MILITARY

Demonstration through the day, and a

BALL IN THE EVENING.

On Monday Feb'y 15th, 1864.

The citizens of Butte and Yuba counties, and the State at large, are cordially invited to participate in said Celebration commencing at 10 o'clock on that day.

THE best capital to begin life on, is a capital wife.

CORRESPONDENCE.

INDIAN VALLEY, FEB. 10TH, 1864.

MR. EDITOR:—I have read your editorial on Candidates, and agree with you, that Lincoln is the man for President; and while I agree with you in praise of noble Andy Johnson as a suitable person for the Vice Presidency, yet I think if the nomination can be secured to the Pacific Coast for that position, we ought not to let the opportunity pass without grasping it. I am, as you know, an old line Republican; but while willing to lay down, as I have done, all my old political beliefs, to secure a thorough union of p triotic citizens, yet I think if California stands a show for securing the nomination of the Vice Presidency to one of her own citizens, she should do her best to secure it.

There is quite a diversity of opinion here, as to the choice for the Vice Presidency; and as far as my knowledge goes, it stands about as follows: Andrew Johnson, 15; for Ben Butler, 12; for Gov. Low, 27; for Sargent, 6. Gov. Banks has numerous friends, but they all desire to see him succeed Lincoln in 1864.

I am a strong supporter and believer in Low, for I know him to be one of the noblest of God's works, an honest man.

Yours truly. A FARMER.

NO USE.—Papers published in the lower cities that have a daily edition, need not send us a weekly in exchange. Must have the daily or none at all.

The Union of the 6th has the following dispatch:

HARTFORD, (Conn.) Feb. 5.—Colt's pistol factory is in flames. Several lives were lost by the falling in of one of the buildings. The loss by the fire is believed to exceed half a million of dollars, which is covered by an insurance of $250,000. The new building, in which the Minie rifles are made, was saved. The original building, with all the machinery, etc., is destroyed. Half the workmen employed are thrown out of work.

A Los Angeles telegram reports the murder by the Apaches of Edward G. Stevens, formerly of the Overland Mail Company, and Mr. Mills, former Superintendent of the Mowry silver mines, in Arizona. Also, that officer Bovee yesterday killed Celestino Alapax, one of Newman's murderers.

THE Yreka Journal tells of a clergyman and two friends who went coon hunting in that neighborhood recently. They succeeded in stirring up three animals which they supposed to be coons; but by a powerful appeal to their olfactories, the quadrupeds convinced them of their mistake.

THE stampede to Washoe, says the Transcript by way of Nevada, is unusually large for this season of the year. The stages go out crowded every day and most of the passengers hail from San Francisco and the lower country.

IT is a remarkable, fact that although common sheep delights in verdant fields, religious flocks are not anxious for green pastors.

NO FICTION, BUT TRUTH.

It is customary to speak of many remedies of the day in a light and frivolous manner, and this may answer where the case to be cured is of a trifling character, and the remedy presented simple. But when we are called to prescribe for diseases endured only with excruciating pain whose termination is often fatal, we leave jesting, and proceed with earnestness to utter facts that will perhaps rescue a fellow being from a bed of sickness or the grave. It is thus that we would introduce to our readers SCOVILL'S BLOOD AND LIVER SYRUP, and state that for the cure of humors there is nothing in the world can equal this popular and extensively used medicine. CALABOOSE SONG.

Fetch them along and hustle them in,
Loaded down with their weight of sin—
Loaded down with their clanking chains
Whose musical ring, to the crowd contains
A sweeter strain than ever was heard
From the thrilling note of the wildwood bird

Range them along in the prisoner's place,
Where all can gaze on each bloated face—
Where all can feel the joy sublime
That beams from faces bleared with crime,
On form for whose safety a mother's prayer
Is uttered in vain on the midnight air.

Stand them alone, where each can plead,
While hearts in agony throb and bleed;
Empannel a jury and swear them in,
And let the trial at once begin;
For crime must suffer, and law outraged
By legal vengeance must be assuaged.

But hold! fetch the gentleman criminal forth
He's a man of standing—a man of worth—
His lands are wide and his wealth is great,
His voice once rang in the halls of state,
It is true that the curse of crime and blood
Has blackened his soul with its murkey flood.

But a pity it is and a very great shame,
Dishonor should tarnish his noble name,
So let the eloquent counsel plead,
For wealth and talent he now will need,
Demurrers and motions must all be heard—
To find him guilty would be absurd.

Oh God! that the time will ever be,
When all will stand on equality—
When the rich and poor will each, alike,
Submit to the blow the law should strike,
And Justice her balanced scales would hold
Unmoved by the weight of accursed gold.

Mr. B——, a well known Metropolitan printer, once told us that on one occasion, an old woman from the country came into his printing office, with an old Bible in her hand.

"I want," said she, "that you should print it over again. It's gettin' a leetle blurred, sort of, and my eyes ain't what they was. How much do you ax?"

"Fifty cents."

"Can you have it done in a half an hour? I wish you would—I want to be gettin' home—live a good ways in the country."

When the old lady went out, he sent around to the office of the American Bible Society, and purchased a copy for fifty cents.

"Lor' sakes amassy!" exclaimed the old woman, when she came to look at it; "how good you've fixed it! It' e'en a'most as good as new. I never seed nothin' so curious as printin' is!"

Hoosier Conversation.—"Hallo stranger! you appear to be traveling."

"Yes, I always travel when on a journey."

"I think I have seen you somewhere."

"Very likely; I have often been there."

"And pray what might your name be?"

"It might be Sam Patch, but it ain't."

"Have you been long in these parts?"

"Never longer than at present—five feet nine."

"Do you get anything new?"

"Yes, I bought a new whetstone this morning."

"I thought so; for you are the sharpest blade I've seen on this road."

Tom is a bright little boy, and very much attached to his mother. The other day his father came home in a bad humor and was scolding and finding fault with things generally. Little Tom sat and listened until he thought it necessary to interfere in behalf of his mother, when, looking up at his father, he said, in a very decided tone:

"If you did not like her ways, what did you marry her for?"

We have just learned, from a Red Bluff man on his way to Washoe, what's the matter with Fisher, of the Beacon. Poor fellow! we pity him. 'Tis said that two tape-worms, measuring one hundred and eighty-seven and a half feet, were recently expelled from Fisher's bowels. The medicine given was a heavy dose of "Tarantula juice." Poor Charley! If we had known that he was so badly troubled with worms, we would have had more compassion upon him.—San Juan Press.

MACHINE POETRY.

The man who doth no paper take,
Grudging five dollars once a year,
Will never a good husband make,
Because his wife can never know what is going on in the world, and his children will very ignorant and ridiculous appear.

The last line is very lengthy for the most scientific poetical jingle, but the moral is sublime.

A St. Louis paper says that the grasshoppers have eaten up the entire tobacco crop of Franklin county, and the last that was heard from them, they were seated on the corners of the fence, begging every man that passed for a chew!

A Southern clergyman, expatiating on the wickedness of Jonah, exclaimed: "Have we any Jonahs here?" A solid old African by that name, with eyes like turnips set in ebony, arose and said: "Here be one, massa."

Some sensible chap says truly, that a person who undertakes to raise himself by scandalizing others, might just as well sit down on a wheelbarrow and undertake to wheel himself.

"Ah, Jemmy," said a sympathizing friend to a man who was just too late for the train, 'you didn't run fast enough.' —"Yes, I did," said Jemmy, "I ran fast enough, but I didn,t start soon enough."

"My son, havn't I told you three times to go and shut that gate?" said a father to a four-year-old "Yes, and havn't I told you three times I won't do it. You must be stupid!"

Somebody says, in California they have fire flies so large that they use them to cook by. They hang the kettle on their hind legs which are bent for the purpose, like pot hooks.

A dispatch from Visalia chronicles the discovery of rich gold, silver and copper leads in the hills twenty miles east of that town.

DR. L. J. CZAPKAY'S Private Medical & Surgical Institute.

Sacramento Street,

San Francisco.

Established in 1854, for the permanent Cure of all Private and Chronic Diseases, and the suppression of Quackery.

Attending and Resident Physician,

L. J. CZAPKAY, M. D.,

Late in the Hungarian Revolutionary War; Chief Physician to the 20th Regiment of Honveds, Chief Surgeon to the Military Hospital of Pesth, Hungary, and late Lecturer on Diseases of Genito Urinary organs and diseases of Women and Children, and Honorary Member of the Philadelphia College of Medicine.

Particular attention paid to the treatment of Diseases peculiar to Women and Children.

Office Hours—From 9 A. M. to 9 P. M. Communications strictly confidential. Permanent cure guaranteed or no pay. Consultation by letter or otherwise, free.

Address, Dr. L. J. CZAPKAY, San Francisco.

To the Afflicted.

DR. L. J. CZAPKAY returns his sincere thanks to his numerous patients for their patronage, and would take this opportunity to remind them that he continues to be consulted at his Institute for the cure of all forms of Private Diseases—such as Syphilis, Gonorrhœa nocturnal emissions, and all the consequences of self abuse. In the first stages of syphilitic or Gonorrhœal Diseases he guarantees a cure in a few days, without inconvenience to the patient or hindrance to his business. When a patient by neglect or improper treatment, has developed the secondary symptoms of syphilis, such as buboes or painful swellings on the groins, or ulcers in the throat or nose, which if not checked destroy the soft parts and cause the bones to mortify, separate and come away, leaving the sufferer an object hideous to behold, or when blotches and pimples break out on the skin, or when he has painful swellings on the bones, or when his constitution is injured so as to predispose to consumption or other constitutional disease, the doctor guarantees a cure or asks no compensation.

In rheumatism, chronic or acute, dysentery or diarrhœa, he has safe and effectual remedies. For the treatment of the consequences of self abuse, such as nocturnal emissions, nervousness, timidity, headache, pains in the back and limbs, with general weakness, loss of memory, injury to the sight, restlessness, confusion of ideas, dislike for society, and a feeling of weariness of life; with the nervous system so excitable that slight noises shock or startle the patient, making existence miserable.

For the above maladies the doctor will guarantee a cure, or ask no compensation. He can be consulted free of charge, and invites all to call as it will cost them nothing, and may be much to their advantage. Office hours, from 9 A. M. to 9 P. M.

Remarkable Instance of Medical Relief.

Certificate.—The undersigned, desirous of acquainting those who may be unfortunate enough to be similarly afflicted, where a permanent relief of their sufferings may be obtained, feels it his duty to thus publicly express his most sincere gratitude to Dr. L. J. Czapkay, for the permanent recovery of his health. Borne down by the distressing symptoms incident to the vicous practices of unscrupulable passion in youth depressed in body and mind, unable to perform even the most trifling duty imposed upon the ordinary avocations of life, I sought the advice of many physicians, who at first regarded my disease as of trifling importance—but alas! after a few weeks and in several instances months of their treatment, I found to my unutterable horror that instead of relief, my symptoms became more alarming in their torture, and being told by one that my disease being principally confined to the brain, medicine would be of little consequence, I despaired of ever regaining my health, strength and energy; and as a last resort and with but a faint hope called upon Dr. Czapkay, who after examining my case prescribed some medicine which almost instantly relieved me of the dull pain and dizziness in my head. Encouraged by the result, I resolved to place myself under his care, and by strict obedience to all his directions and advice my head became clear, and my ideas collected, the constant pain in my back and groins, the weakness of my limbs, the nervous reaction of my whole body on the slightest alarm or excitement, the misanthropy and evil forbodings, the self distrust and want of confidence in others, the incapability to study, and want of resolution, the frightful exciting and at times pleasurable dreams at night, followed by involuntary discharges, have all disappeared, and in fact, in two months after having consulted the doctor, I felt as if inspired by a new life—that life which but a short time ago I contemplated to end by my own hand. To guard the unfortunate from falling into the snares of incompetent quacks, I deem it my duty to offer this testimony to the merit and skill of Dr. Czapkay, and recommend him to all who may stand in need of medical advice, being assured that once under his care a radical and permanent cure will be effected.

B. F. FILLMORE.

State of California, County of San Francisco:

Subscribed and sworn to before me, this seventeenth day of April, A. D. 1856.

Signed: JOHN MIDDLETON, Notary Public. [L. S.]

☞ Dr. L. J. Czapkay is daily receiving applications from every part of the State and from Oregon and Washington Territory for the treatment of every form of disease, and there is not one who will come forward and express dissatisfaction; on the contrary, the Doctor is in daily receipt of letters expressive of gratitude and thankfulness, some of which are published below by permission:

Dr. L. J Czapkay, San Francisco: Sir—I have used the last of your medicine, and do not think I shall need any more as I feel very well, except that I have not entirely got my strength yet, but soon will with the appetite that I have—It is just three weeks you may recollect, since I called at your Institute, with my constitution as I thought entirely broken, and never thought that you would be able to cure me perfectly, but thought you might be able to do something to ease the pain in my back and head and strengthen my limbs, which were so weak that they would almost give way under me when I walked, and to strengthen my nerves so that I would not get excited and tremble at everything. Now that you know what I expected you may judge of my satisfaction at my complete recovery from those symptoms, and the removal of those blotches and sores from my skin, and ulcers from my throat, and the entire stoppage of those emissions, which you said were principally the cause of my sickness.

I can hardly tell you which is the greatest, my joy or my surprise, for except not having fully got my strength, I feel as well as any man can feel.

Enclosed I send you twenty dollars over your charge, and think myself cheaply cured. If you think anybody will be benefited, you may put this letter in the news papers.—Believe me gratefully yours, THOMAS HAYDEN.

Stockton, May 24, 1855.

Dear Sir—Having entirely recovered from my sickness, I avail myself of this opportunity to return my acknowledgement for the relief that you have given me. When I think of the distressing bodily weakness under which I have suffered, and the nervousness, headache, fearfulness, want of confidence, dizziness, restlessness, weakness in the limbs loss of memory, confusion of ideas, dislike for society, nocturnal emissions, which made my life miserable. I can hardly express my gratitude for my existence had become a burden to me, and nothing afforded me the least satisfaction.—Knowing that there are many afflicted as I have been you have my permission to make use of this letter as you think proper. Believe me gratefully yours,

H. MICHELS.

To Dr. L. J. Czapkay, San Francisco.

Sacramento, May 15, 1855.

Dear Sir—Such is the thankfulness that I feel for the preservation of my health of body and mind, and I believe of my life, that I hope I will not be considered intrusive in tendering my thankful acknowledgements for restoring my health and making my life a boon worth preserving when it had become a burden too great for me to bear. Victim as I was to vice that had undermined my constitution, and developed a train of nervous symptoms, such as nervous debility, headache, distressing timidity, self distrust, love of solitude, loss of memory and want of resolution, besides a loss of strength and energy, which had made my waking moments wretched and my sleep unrefreshing and was fast bringing me to the grave, but thanks to your skill I am restored to health, vigor and energy. Hoping to guide others where they may find relief, you have my permission to make this public. Gratefully yours, LEONARD WAITE.

To Dr. L. J. Czapkay, San Francisco.

TO THE LADIES OF CALIFORNIA—L. J. Czapkay, M. D., Physician, Surgeon, and Accoucheur, invites the attention of the sick and afflicted females laboring under any of the various forms of diseases of the brain, lungs, heart, stomach, liver, womb, blood, kidneys, and all diseases peculiar to their sex. The Doctor is effecting more cures than any other physician in the State of California. Let no false delicacy prevent you, but apply immediately, and save yourselves from painful suffering and premature death. All married ladies whose delicate health or other circumstances prevent an increase in their families, should call at Dr. L. J. Czapkay's Medical Institute, Sacramento street, below Montgomery, opposite the Pacific Mail Steamship Company's Office San Francisco, and they will receive every possible relief and help.

All consultations (by letter or otherwise) free.
